GENERAL PRESS RELEASE (Cont'd.)

THE SHANGRI-LA CHINESE ACROBATS® have performed at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, CA for many years running. They have also performed at The Solano County Fair in Vallejo, CA in 2008 and the South Florida Fair in West Palm Beach, FL in 2009 and 2010. Other highlights include performing at numerous special and private events for a variety of clients and venues, such as the USA Swim Team at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, CA. Training to become a member of the touring company of THE SHANGRI-LA CHINESE ACROBATS® begins at an early age. It is a family affair. Children who watch their parents contort, leap and sail through the air obviously take it for granted that they will, in time, do the same - and they invariably do. Becoming an accomplished Chinese Acrobat in THE SHANGRI-LA CHINESE ACROBATS® offers the performer a special status in China, equivalent to that of an American Opera star, and allows them the opportunity to travel around the world, sharing their talents with a wide variety of audiences.

Formal lessons and training begin at the age of five or six, when observation has already become a fantastic teacher. There are three schools for the arts in China: the first dealing with Dance, the second with Chinese Opera, and the third with Acrobatics. Here, acrobatic students spend four hours each day going through their paces, so that by the time they reach the age of 14 or 15, their art has become a part of their daily lives and is virtually second nature.

Second nature it is to the Hai Family from China, whose expertise directing and leading THE SHANGRI-LA CHINESE ACROBATS® for over 30 years has met with great success and standing ovations across North America and around the world. In acrobatic circles, the family name Hai (pronounced "hi") is highly respected and synonymous with physical feats of daring and skill across Asia. These directing skills, combined with production values from the show's producers IAI Presentations, create a thrilling theatrical experience for the audience.
